INTERNATIONAL DEFENSE REVIEW

List of Contents for 1968

No. I

Operational Planning for the Harrier
Production of the AMX.30 Tank
New Russian Missile Developments

A New Element in Warfare. The Arrival of V/STOL on the Battlefield . . . . . D. Wood 35
French Army Equipment and the DTAT 41
Production of the AMX.30 at Roanne 43
The Saab Rb 08 Missile System 46
The M 109 Medium Howitzer 48
A Threat to the Nuclear Missile Balance? New Weapons for the Soviet Armed Forces 50
Soviet Seapower – A Growing Force 57
Fast Frigates with CODOG Propulsion 60
Weapons • Vehicles • Equipment 62
The Role of the Modern Machine Gun . . . . . T. Fabry 68

No. II

Tactical Missile Programmes in Europe
Naval Communications
Night Fighting Equipment and Tactics

Missile System Technology in the 1970s 103
The Roland Low-altitude Surface-to-air Defence System . . 106
The Nord-Aviation SS.12/AS.12 Missile System 109
Infantry Anti-Tank Weapons: The French STRIM 114
The Ikara Long-range ASW System 115
A New Armoured Fighting Vehicle for the Bundeswehr Oberst i. G. Lingenthal 117
Naval Communications . . . . . J. Marriott 119
The Use of Radio Links in Gun Sound Ranging R. E. Beagles 123
Night Fighting Equipment and Tactics Major Thorp-Tracey 124
The Helicopter . . . an All-weather Aircraft? Electronique Marcel Dassault helicopter radar 126
Cymbeline Mortar Locating Radar 128
Weapons • Vehicles • Equipment 129
The Solartron Direct Fire Weapon Effects Simulator N. Kaye 135

No. III

The West German Navy
Growth of Soviet Seapower
Airborne Reconnaissance

The Development of Soviet Seapower 175
The West German Navy – its structure and role 177
New Light Submarines of the German Navy U. Ude and L. Nohse 181
Tactical Utilisation of a Light Fighting Unit 184
The APX Infantry Anti-Tank Weapon 187
Blowpipe – a man-portable supersonic missile system . . . 189
The French Missile Tracking Ship 'Henri Poincaré' . . . 199
Airborne Reconnaissance 202
US Army Tactical Night Vision Devices 206
Weapons • Vehicles • Equipment 209
Equipment of the Soviet Baltic Fleet 215

No. IV

French Naval Weapons and Equipment
Potential of Hovercraft in the Armed Services
Combat Zone Surveillance Radar

French Naval Exhibition at Le Bourget 251
Detection, Navigation and Electronic Equipment 258
Hovercraft in the Armed Forces . . Lt-Col. W.M.A. Conran 260
Multiple Rocket Launcher for the German Armed Forces . . 264
Infantry Anti-Tank Weapons. A preset-range telescopic sight for infantry anti-tank weapons 266
The APX-ACRA Weapons System 266
Switzerland Buys the M-109 and Panzer 68 283
The French 155 mm Self-propelled Gun 284
Helicopter Weapon Sighting Systems – the APX.260 BEZU . 286
– the Avimo-Ferranti Sight Line Stabiliser 288
The Dragon Goes into Production 289
Contraves Naval Weapon Systems 290
Weapons • Vehicles • Equipment 292
The AN/PPS-5 Combat Surveillance Radar D. J. Stanton and A. P. Uzzo 300
The Vickers Seaborne Missile Launcher System 302
French Naval Exhibition 1968: exhibitors and equipment . . 304
The Converted T 47 Anti-submarine Destroyer 305
A New Corvette for the French Navy 306